Online Survey Generator

<http://www.stat.auckland.ac.nz/survey/>

The online survey generator is designed to enable you to easily create online surveys for collecting data - without knowing any programming!

All you need to do is fill in some contact information, agree to the terms and conditions then start adding questions to your survey.

You decide when the survey starts (as early as tomorrow) and how long it runs for and everything else is handled automatically.

All submitted surveys are checked for appropriateness before going online. Once approved, you will receive an email (usually within one working day) stating that your survey is ready to go.

In the email, you'll also be told the web address for answering the online survey.

The survey can be taken at any time between the start and end of your survey period.

At the end of the survey, you'll be emailed the questions and the data which can be opened in Excel.
